

How do I activate/create my AdminBox account?

→ <https://adminbox.myarchive.lu>

It is not possible to create an Adminbox account manually. In fact, you are invited directly by Securex.

When your first document is sent to your Adminbox account, you will receive an invitation e-mail that allows you to activate your Adminbox account, choose your password and thus have access to your documents online.

Please note that if your Adminbox account is already active and you receive a new invitation e-mail on another e-mail address, you can link the new subscription to your preferred account.

To activate your new account you must:

1. Go to your inbox and open the invitation e-mail.
2. Click on "Activate my Adminbox". You will be redirected to the Adminbox website.
3. Enter the personal data requested and click on "Continue".

You can use another e-mail address than the one to which the invitation was sent. In this case, you will receive a confirmation e-mail and will have to repeat the activation procedure for your Adminbox account.
